1 | The Movement Story – Why I Speak

Raised and homeschooled in Kenosha, Wisconsin, Cody Adams grew up believing America was meant to live under God's truth—but that belief was tested when the world turned upside down.

When COVID lockdowns, BLM riots, and the rainbow rebellion all hit within two years, Cody watched his community unravel and realized that the “neutral world” he once believed in never truly existed. He saw a nation crumbling because its moral foundations had been quietly kicked out from under it.

As he wrestled with the chaos, Cody revisited his 15,000 hours of study in history, theology, and worldview formation, while also listening to courageous thinkers like Dr. James White, Voddie Baucham, Doug Wilson, and Jordan Peterson.

The conclusion stunned him: the crisis wasn't just “out there.” It began in the Church's compromise and the believer's silence—including his own.

Convicted by Scripture, Cody resolved that the restoration of Western civilization begins with Christians who take personal responsibility to bear their cross, live by God's Word, and bring His truth into every sphere of life. His message is simple but urgent:

“Darkness only grows when Light recedes—in every sphere and nation.”

That conviction compels him to teach, preach, and produce media that call believers back to obedience, courage, and cultural reformation.

2 | Core Message Framework – What I Teach

1. God's Sovereign Design: Every redeemed but broken vessel has a role in God's unfolding plan of history.

2. Scripture As The Building Codes: God has already provided everything we need to rightly order our families, churches, and nations according to His law and grace.
  3. Faithful Stewardship: Neglecting that calling means resisting God's plan; embracing it means partnering with Him to rebuild civilization under Christ.

3 | Featured Keynote Talks

Why Did Society Shatter In 2020? The Hard Truth That Broke But Reformed Me

Live as a vessel for honor in every sphere of life without dishonoring God's plan for history.

Every institution—family, church, and nation—was designed with divine specifications. In this talk, Cody Adams reveals how God designed every sphere of society to reflect His nature, justice, and truth. Drawing from Scripture, history, and theology, he calls believers to rebuild their homes and communities according to the King's building codes for life.

“When God's people live by The Light of His design, civilization flourishes; when they ignore it, darkness grows and chaos reigns.”

MAGA Is Doomed Without THIS: What ORIGINALLY Made America Great & Can Again

Restore the principles that made America distinct and blessed—without reinventing them.

The United States was never meant to be a secular experiment; it was structured to operate on the moral law of God. Cody exposes how modern leaders severed the nation from its Creator's order and shows how the Founders' vision was inseparable from biblical truth. With the clarity of a historian and the conviction inspired by the protestant reformers, he presents a roadmap for national renewal rooted in God's eternal standards for human life.

“America's operating system only runs on God's law and order for life.”

The Pen From The Cornerstone: How Christian Media Builds Christ's Kingdom

Invest truth in the marketplace rather than burying it out of fear.

When the Church hides God's Word, society collapses into confusion. Cody challenges believers to stop retreating and start discipling the world around them—at work, in media, and in local culture. Grounded in Scripture, this message shows how courageous discipleship through Christian media can restore moral clarity and civic virtue in an age of deception.

"Society goes to hell in a handbag when God's people hide His Word in the pew instead of building it into each sphere of our involvement."

4 | Education & Formation

Cody pursued dual bachelor's degrees in History Education and Speech Communication Education at Northland International University (formerly Northland Baptist Bible College). His history training was framed by a biblical, presuppositional worldview—mining historical narratives to uncover ethical truths reflecting Scripture. His speech and communication studies focused on the persuasive power of words and storytelling to disciple audiences through oratory and media.

As part of Northland's culture of leadership, Cody also studied Biblical Theology, trained with the Wilderness Institute of Leadership Development.

Previous to his college studies, Cody completed twenty years in Royal Rangers, a Christian leadership and discipleship program for men and boys. As part of his homeschool studies, he also trained in policy debate, worldview analysis, and Christian apologetics.

In the last 5 years, Cody has pursued an extensive self-study in business, marketing, theology, and philosophy—including attending a live lecture with Dr. Jordan Peterson.

5 | Professional Background

Cody's early jobs taught diligence and responsibility, from custodial work to customer service. His first major professional step came at WVCY America, a conservative Christian radio network, where he managed national broadcast operations and emergency systems.

He served more than five years as a docent and tour guide at the Kenosha Civil War and Public Museum, taught in both Christian and public schools, and tutored through Sylvan Learning Center before launching his own tutoring company focused on homeschooling families.

As an educator with the Milwaukee Public Museum, he created eight original educational experiences, conducted digital historical reenactments, and wrote training scripts for new hires—serving thousands of visitors.

In 2021, Cody founded Storyscape Design, producing digital marketing and education content for Christian conservative small businesses and nonprofits, a work he continues today.

6 | Ministry & Media Impact

In 2022, convicted by his responsibility before God for the moral descent of his community, Cody began publishing educational content that applied Scripture to current events across every sphere of society. He produces podcasts, long-form videos, livestreams, and commentary that equip believers to respond biblically to cultural issues—from gender ideology and DEI movements to civic duty and national repentance.

He has assisted Christian conservative political candidates, local GOP chapters, and faith-based nonprofits with campaign messaging, interviews, and media strategy. His online articles have directly influenced Christian voters and encouraged civic re-engagement rooted in biblical conviction.

At his local church, Cody helped launch a Creative Media Ministry, developing communication strategy and organization to amplify the church's teaching for greater community impact. He mentors young creators in the technical and spiritual stewardship of media, demonstrating how digital tools can advance the Great Commission in the 21st century.

"God has chosen to use broken vessels to rebuild His world. My mission is to help Christians rediscover the blueprints—to know Christ, understand His Word, affirm His truth, model His grace, and manifest His order—so that America, and the world, may once again reflect the glory of God in every sphere of life." — Cody Adams
